

RISING TOGETHER

38th Annual Gala: Virtual Premier Show

OCTOBER 10, 2020

A SPECIAL MESSAGE

Honorable Congressman Mr. Frank Pallone's 38th Annual Gala Speech

Hi,

This is Congressman Frank Pallone and I want to thank all of you for helping to make the 38th Annual Share & Care Gala special even during these challenging times with the COVID pandemic. And of course, I wish we were all here together because it is really an honor to pay tribute to the incredible work the Share & Care Foundation does. I want to talk a little bit about what Share & Care does not only for the community here in the U.S., but globally over the years. Tonight's theme, "Rising Together," is an important cause and one that we all have to contribute to. And again, I would urge you to contribute as much as you can to this really worthwhile cause.

I've been associated with Share & Care over the years and in particular like the fact that it also encourages a strong partnership in its mission to bring together India and the United States. One of the unique and particularly admirable aspects of Share & Care Foundation is the grassroots effort it supports in promoting development in India. And I've been particularly impressed over the years with the work towards greater equality and access to healthcare and education. I witnessed that firsthand when I was with Sharad Shah and Dr. Ketki Shah when we went to India and we saw the work they were doing in schools — the work they were doing to help people educate themselves and look for work opportunities. This is even more important, I would say, during the COVID-19 pandemic.

I wanted to thank all of you. Share & Care generously donated $250,000 in aid to combat the COVID crisis where it was most needed both in the United States and in India. That amount of money definitely deserves a round of applause.

The bottom line is that Share & Care's mission is simple: It is our responsibility to create a more equal world where access to resources and opportunities are not just for a select few, but for everyone. Everyone deserves a fighting chance. In a country like India where the economy is rapidly developing, ensuring that those living in rural India, that women and at-risk children are not left behind, has to remain a priority.

So again, thank you all for joining this gala tonight in helping set an important example, and I commend the Share & Care Foundation for all its work.

Honorable Congressman Frank Pallone, Jr. is the Chairman of the House Energy and Commerce Committee, which has jurisdiction over issues pertaining to energy, environment, health care, commerce, and telecommunications. He has been in the U.S. Congress since 1992 and is a ranking member who has led efforts in successfully enacting important legislations. A true friend of Share & Care, he is also the co-founder of the Congressional Caucus on India and Indian-Americans.

DEAR PATRONS AND FRIENDS...

Letter From the President

A new normal!

The roads were deserted. Signs on the New Jersey Turnpike were unusual (i.e., "Masks are compulsory in service areas"). Offices were closed. Malls were shut. No gatherings. No eating in restaurants. After a few weeks, everyone started asking, "What is 'normal' life?" A new normal was born and humans were in for a long haul of different routines. Everyone found themselves in similarly stressful circumstances; however, people with fewer resources faced even greater hardships.

As COVID-19 wreaked havoc around the world, we at Share & Care held an emergency meeting. Right away, we decided to help out where others may not be able to, even though we all were facing severe circumstances. With our experience in responding to various disasters over the years, we knew that this would be our biggest disaster relief operation ever. We immediately approved the undertaking of the operation, with a strong focus in the USA and India.

Our task was unprecedented and it required a great deal of reorganizing (brainstorming, interactions at different levels, office restructuring, regrouping, etc.); however, determining exactly how to help was at the top of the list. Our Disaster Relief Committee was activated on a 24/7 basis. Obtaining reliable information was critical, as was digesting it and developing schemes of assistance. A team of our seven most experienced and skilled members, supported by a group of physicians, started working with local healthcare officials, hospitals, and pharmacies as well as with various NGOs in different parts of India.

The pleas from migrants in metropolitan areas, and from villages thousands of miles away, to shoulder the pains of children and to help provide meals, rations, masks, and sanitization, were overwhelming. Soon the plans were developed and as a result we were able to help more than 100,000 people in India and the USA in the first of three COVID-19 Disaster Relief phases. We are also determined to assist in rehabilitation for those affected by the pandemic. A group of approximately 20 diligent members from various project committees are currently reviewing and possibly reshaping our core plans to guide us through this difficult time.

Amid the incredible challenges humanity is facing, we have seen some good news. People in Jammu, Kashmir, and Punjab were able to see the Himalayas from 150 km away — for the first time in many years! Families were together.

Artwork by Arti Jayantibhai Gami, student of Share & Care's project at Sabarmati Ashram

The air in Mumbai was much better, the dark clouds above Ahmedabad were dissipating, the roads in Mumbai and Delhi were less congested, and pollution was on the decline.

Naturally, like so many others, we are wondering how to keep these "good" aspects of our new normal while also getting back to the best aspects of our past. This task will be easier if everyone, including us, does their part. We are determined and will be molding our foundation to advocate and promote this idea through our projects. This will require us to redraw various project schemes and raise resources to meet the challenges. It is very tricky. We fully understand that many of our supporters themselves are experiencing challenges — and to call on them is both humbling and emotional. Our appeal to everyone is to understand us and share whatever you can, and we will make sure that it is put to the very best use.

In any circumstances, your well-being is the most important, and you all are in our thoughts.

Please be well and stay safe.

Love,

Sharad Shah

IN CELEBRATION OF THE LIFE OF VIJAY N. DALAL

1939 - 2020

Vijay N. Dalal, one of the founding members of Share & Care Foundation, left this Earth peacefully on November 11, 2020 at home surrounded by his family. He is survived by his loving wife of 54 years, Asha, son Yash, daughter Shraddha, daughter-in-law Amrita, son-in-law Ravi, and the lights of his life, his four grandchildren, Yamini, Sujan, Radha, and Pranav, and his sister, Smita.

Vijay was born in Mumbai, India. He studied accounting and economics in India and went on to pursue graduate work in accounting in England. He married the love of his life, Asha, and they emigrated from India and eventually settled in Ramsey, NJ where they lived for nearly 50 years.

Vijay started his professional career as an accountant and was originally a Controller for the Western Union Corporation. In 1977, he made the fateful decision to become a financial advisor at Loeb Rhodes, a predecessor company to Morgan Stanley. He embodied his family name "Dalal" which means "stockbroker." One could say that it was destiny. Vijay was more than a stockbroker to his clients as he became involved in their lives and helped them through every important milestone. Vijay stayed with the same firm for his entire 43-year career.

Philanthropy was a passion of Vijay's. Vijay often talked about how his grandfather and father instilled in him the belief that he should do whatever he could to help the less fortunate. He joined the Rotary Club and took part in a myriad of charitable endeavors, serving as his local chapter's President in the 1980s. But his heart was also with India and he wanted to provide aid to his homeland.

In 1982, Vijay and Asha, along with a group of enthusiastic friends, founded The Share & Care Foundation. He was instrumental in obtaining 501(c)(3) status enabling its official non-profit status. Vijay nurtured this charitable organization, allowed it to blossom, and gave it wings. He spearheaded numerous initiatives in the fields of education, medicine, disaster relief, women empowerment, and family support to help those who were less fortunate. Frequently, Vijay dedicated precious vacation time visiting NGOs in India, identifying organizations worth supporting, and advising others. For nearly 25 years, his home in Ramsey served as the primary office for the Foundation, and initial Share & Care "Used Clothes Drives" were conducted in his driveway, each shipping over 20,000 pounds of used clothes to the needy. During his lifetime, Vijay served for 14 years in leadership roles including Chairman, President, Vice President, and Secretary. He was both a visionary and an implementer, always radiating positivity and energy and continuously driving Share & Care to attain new heights.

He and Asha also worked closely with numerous other charities in India, primarily to provide education and uplift individuals. There are too many other projects to list and thousands of people he has helped. His donations extended beyond monetary ones, as he empowered people with skills and opportunities to provide for themselves. He never had any expectations, and his only wish was that they, in turn, pay it forward by helping others in their own communities and beyond.

Vijay was a true philanthropist, dedicated to the service of others. He leaves behind a legacy of positivity, generosity, and selflessness. Vijay was truly an honorable man, who deeply embodied the belief, "Nothing is mine; it was given to me by God," and therefore mostly donated anonymously. He will be missed by many and forever loved by his family.

WHY GIVE TO SHARE & CARE FOUNDATION?

Founded on the cornerstones of generosity and innovative collaboration, Share & Care creates opportunities for deserving, economically challenged communities and individuals in India and around the world. Such opportunities include village upliftment, women empowerment, disaster relief and rehabilitation, providing access to quality education and primary healthcare, supporting skill development through livelihood training, and more.

Share & Care has been successful and instrumental in rebuilding lives in rural communities of India where the government or large nonprofits had little success. Our collaborative attitude and deep understanding of the beneficiaries we serve have helped us overcome many challenges. Our success can be attributed to millions of volunteer hours, passionate donors, and our singular vision to improve the standard of living for marginalized and underserved communities.

Our Approach to Creating Long-Term Impact

We work with a holistic approach and partner with NGOs that focus on grassroots solutions. With the support of these reputable on-the-ground partners, we employ locally tailored and comprehensive solutions to create long-term impact and sustainable change. This holistic approach has been a sort of "mantra" in the effort and resources we provide our beneficiaries. By cultivating a cycle of self-sufficiency in the communities we serve, we are ensuring that each dollar you donate will have a lasting impact.

With each year of service, we have learned to create and execute individually and optimally designed programs for specific causes and geographical conditions, thereby ensuring their effectiveness and sustainability. Few organizations, if any, can claim a comparable level of expertise in effectively serving some of India's most neglected communities.

With our proven track record, we are the means for you to fulfill your charitable goals and make a difference in the areas that are most meaningful to you personally.

A Commitment to Transparency

At Share & Care, we are dedicated both to our donors and to the communities we serve.

As part of our ongoing commitment to transparency, our track records are proven, credible, and accountable — and we can provide in-depth details of our non-governmental partner organizations on request.

We also receive feedback reports on every grant we make. Each report contains the financial health of the project, how beneficiaries are impacted, and how your donation has made a difference.

Most importantly, we are trustworthy and well-recognized. We are a GuideStar Exchange Gold Participant and a four-star rating recipient (the highest rating possible) from Charity Navigator. Share & Care is also one of the few foundations in the United States listed under the Indo-US Bi-Lateral Agreement.

"If you knew what I know about the power of giving, you would not let a single meal pass without sharing it in some way."

We are grateful to our youth at Mijwaan Welfare Society (MWS), and to those at Gandhi Ashram at Sabarmati's Primary Teacher's College (PTC), who contributed artwork for our cover page. At MWS, students were asked to create artwork depicting their experiences since the onset of COVID-19. At PTC, students likewise illustrated their feelings about the pandemic, while also incorporating the theme of "Rising Together" and offering suggestions for staying safe.

SARI DRIVE

More than 12,000 families per year will be helped by generous donations of saris and accessories.

Sari Collection Drive by Share & Care Valued at Over $320,900

India is a land of culture, heritage, and tradition. As citizens, we enthusiastically celebrate our customs and indigenous attire — including the sari, a traditional Indian garment that is worn and admired throughout the country.

In all, the donated saris shipped in 118 boxes and weighed a total of 5,310 lbs.

The sari is one of the oldest forms of clothing, with references dating back centuries. The majority of women in India still wear saris today, as they are considered primary pieces of clothing even in modern wardrobes. However, due to financial limitations, many people do not have the privilege of wearing this beautiful garment, even on auspicious festival days and events like family weddings.

To fill this void, Share & Care's partner NGO Gramshree set out to create "Sari Libraries" in which women with financial limitations can borrow gently used saris at no cost. The saris are provided by blessed women and families who are able to donate clothing in very good condition. Women from the community can then borrow these ensembles for free. Their sole obligation is to dry-clean the garment(s) and return them back to the library.

At the beginning of 2020, Share & Care set out to collect 2,020 saris by the end of the year. We are pleased to announce that, despite interruptions due to COVID-19, we continued our efforts with community support and successfully concluded the drive on October 15, 2020. We exceeded our goal and collected a total of 4,289 saris (plus other items; see below)!

Sari (with blouses in set)	2,597
Sari	1,692
Blouses	413
Chaniya Choli set	101
Shawls, etc.	6
Petticoats	38
Total items	4,847

With this initiative, we are bridging the gaps of society by offering underprivileged women with opportunities for dignity and pride. The women in marginalized and slum communities who have access to the Sari Library are delighted by the initiative, and they even pre-book their favorite garments for family occasions like weddings and festivals such as Diwali, Navratri, and Raksha Bandhan.

Share & Care members devote many volunteer hours around the year for humanitarian work. Amar and Jyotsna Shah spearheaded this project in the difficult timing of COVID-19, during which social distancing and fear of disease transmission precluded many volunteers from working on this unique and worthy project. They provided storage, labor (including receiving, sorting, inspecting, and preparing and shipping packages) and precious time to bring cheers to many families.

Tejal Parekh, our Director of Administration & Operations, also provided results-oriented public awareness during this complex time. ●

As humans, the way we look and the clothes we wear deeply influence our self-confidence. We are honored to provide this dignity for our beneficiaries in marginalized communities. Our special thanks to all the donors for this project.

COVID-19 DISASTER RECOVERY

With the onset of COVID-19, 2020 was a year truly unlike any other. The pandemic, which knows no boundaries and affects all irrespective of race, religion, or social status, has hurt over 67 million people — and 1.54 million as of 12/6/20 have lost their lives. Will you send a gift to help us continue providing relief and rehabilitation for 10,000 families affected by this disaster in India?

COVID-19 DISASTER RECOVERY

Our teams in the U.S. and India are hard at work assisting people who have been affected both by the COVID-19 pandemic and by the resulting lockdowns implemented to slow the spread of the virus.

As of July 30, 2020, we allocated $300,000 in disaster relief funding and partnered with 16 NGOs to reach tens of thousands of struggling people in the U.S. and India. We have distributed grocery kits to families in need, served hot meals to families and daily wage earners, distributed healthcare items such as soap and masks, and served thousands of meals to healthcare heroes in the U.S. Our ongoing and future efforts are focused on rehab and rehabilitation for those affected by this crisis.

- 7,500+ families helped
- 130,000+ meals served
- 34,000+ healthcare items distributed

Additionally, our on-the-ground volunteers in India are working to equip villagers with the support and education needed to combat the spread of the virus in their communities.

Our new Village Upliftment program (initiated in early 2020) places 12 Lokmitras ("friends of the people") in 12 Gujarat villages. Their roles are to offer solutions for community-wide issues, to modernize mindsets as well as the villages themselves, and to serve as a liaison between village and government. Once the COVID-19 pandemic began, the Lokmitras immediately set to work educating villagers about the virus and about the importance of hand washing and social distancing. They have also played a key role in identifying (and providing aid for) families who have been affected most severely by the ongoing crisis. ●

Our 2020 WE Vision

We have exceeded our pledge, made during last year's 37th Annual Gala, to empower 20,200 women in 2020. As of November — even in these difficult times — we have empowered 24,192 women this year.

Share & Care has formally focused on empowering women since 2012. We have pursued this goal through providing marginalized women and girls with opportunities for livelihood and self-defense training, gender equality education, self-help groups, leadership training, and more.

In 2018 we joined forces with Gandhi Ashram at Sabarmati, established by Mahatma Gandhi in 1917 to promote his constructive visions regarding women empowerment, sanitation, and literacy, among other social issues. Gandhiji recognized that women are fundamental to creating societal change, and believed they are capable of infinite strength, which only needs to be realized and channeled.

The Ashram hosts female students from India's most marginalized sections of society and has three schools: a primary school, a high school (grades 9-12), and a teachers' training college. We are now in our second year of partnership with the Ashram. Our assistance directly supports the high school (which hosts 350 students) and the teachers' college (which hosts 150 students). A majority of the students travel from remote villages and stay in an onsite hostel, ensuring they remain safe and healthy while learning life skills.

Our aid provides resources for holistic development, including (but not limited to):

- Sports and self-defense training
- Gender equality education
- Character building and leadership development
- Health checkups and treatment

- Personal hygiene education and supplies
- Gender- and environment-themed excursions for holistic learning

Hardships During Lockdown

Sadly, we learned that some of the students' families fell on hard times during the COVID-19 lockdowns. Many of the parents, who work as produce vendors, plumbers, or carpenters, depend on daily wages — and during the lockdowns they (and their children) had to take up other kinds of labor jobs in order to support themselves.

Aarti Kathesia, a second-year student at our Primary Teacher's College, faced such a predicament. After returning to her village, she took up multiple forms of labor (such as working on the field) to support herself and her family. Priyanshi, a 10th grade student at Vinay Mandir Girls School, accompanied her mother in scouring their village every day to gather the fruit eranda (castor), earning Rs. 30 for their labor. Many such heart-rending and saddening stories came to us during the past few months. We know we have a long way to go in helping these families escape this situation, and we remain hopeful that this too shall pass.

An Empowerment Success Story

This year, one of the Ashram's top students was Falguni Gohil, who comes from the Shiyavada District of Gujarat and scored 82.13% in her 12th grade board exam. She scored the highest marks among all her cohort members in Economics, Commerce, Statistics, and Accounts. Falguni joined the Vinay Mandir Girls School in 9th grade and very quickly became part of the girl's leadership group through joining the medical team on campus. She now looks forward to joining studying Commerce at a college in Ahmedabad.●

Students at the Ashram receive holistic education and support, ensuring they are empowered with confidence and life skills while also receiving academic training.

“I gained a lot of confidence through living in the hostel and my stage fright was completely gone due to participating in various activities such as dance and anchoring. I would never have got this holistic experience of living with others and learning together in any other school. I see my other friends who went to different schools and none of them have become this well-rounded through their academic experience. Vinay Mandir School is definitely a cut above the rest!”

— FALGUNI GOHIL, GRADE 12

VILLAGE UPLIFTMENT

Our Village Upliftment (VU) program has placed 12 trained and college-educated Lokmitras (“friends of the people”) in 12 villages throughout Gujarat. The role of Lokmitras is to raise awareness about, and offer solutions for, issues affecting entire communities.

Young children with art kits supplied by village Lokmitras.

Sustainable Solutions for Community Issues

The Lokmitras' consistent presence in their villages makes change not only possible, but also sustainable. Other upliftment activities have included:

- Coaching children on education, hygiene, and personal development skills
- Hosting meetups with women and young girls to provide education on menstrual health
- Advising pregnant women, providing iron tablets, and arranging medical check-ups
- Addressing elderly villagers' health concerns and connecting them to proper resources
- Arranging trips for farmers to learn about organic home farming
- Building food and water stations for birds and other animals

Empowerment During COVID-19

The Lokmitras have educated a total of 50,000 villagers about the pandemic and explained the importance of preventive practices. They have also empowered villagers in the following ways:

- When food became scarce, with the additional help of Share & Care's COVID-19 response, they handed out “Grocery Kits of Gratitude” to more than 1,000 families and when supplies again ran low, they asked local merchants to donate grain to create additional kits for even more beneficiaries.
- Following the COVID-19 lockdowns, one Lokmitra visited 45 neighboring factories (along with the village chief) to ensure safety for the returning village workers.

To help with women's livelihoods early in the pandemic, they provided women with the materials and instructions for making masks, and helped sell them to villagers (at very little cost).

And for the children, who were struggling with the stay-at-home orders, Lokmitras gathered the supplies to create 50 art kits. Along with pads of paper, Lokmitras receive thorough training, conducted by seasoned experts, before being placed in their respective villages.

Lokmitras created dustbins using trashed plastic containers to use for village cleanup, and organized and inspired ongoing cleanliness and maintenance practices. ●

HEALTHCARE 2 UNREACHED

The adage "Prevention is better than cure" is the mantra for our H2U team in delivering healthcare to the marginalized poor in the vast corners of Pan India, primarily in the states of Rajasthan, Gujarat, Maharashtra, Manipal, and Tamil Nadu. Recognizing that preventive action is the most cost-effective way to provide healthcare and to get the best outcome for your donated dollars, our team and our local partners focus on remedial actions to address the five "A"s — a lack of affordability, access to facilities, awareness of good health practices, and accountability in health services, as well as the absence of resources. Our project activities include:

Mobile Clinic Services for Remote Tribal Areas (Imphal, Manipur)

Our Mobile Medical Clinic has provided free treatment and medicines to 2,648 marginalized patients. To improve the health of mothers and children, it has assisted us in conducting antenatal and postnatal check-ups, providing contraceptives to eligible couples, and vaccinating children and pregnant women as needed. The clinic staff also host monthly educational meetings to teach good hygiene and health practices.

Pregnancy and Maternal Care for Landless Labor Communities (Thiruthuraipoondi, Tamil Nadu)

We work in 870 villages and rural communities to ensure healthy pregnancies and maternal care. We have also "adopted" 100 pregnant women for a period of two years to assist them during delivery and to provide medical and nutritional support to both mothers and newborns. Most of the pregnant women enrolled in our program hail from poor agricultural labor communities and live below the poverty line, with no access to modern medical facilities.

GRAVIS Project (Thar Desert, Rajasthan)

This project covers five needy villages in the rural Thar Desert. Approximately 5,000 to 6,000 women, girls, and adolescent boys will benefit from the project activities. The overall goal is to improve nutritional and health and to validate a holistic model for the future.

Women "adopted" through our Pregnancy and Maternal Care project receive medical and nutritional support.

In this project, village health workers (VHWs) educate women and girls on nutrition, address nutritional deficiencies through horticulture and supplementary nutrition, provide supplements as needed, and improve women and girls' understanding on menstrual hygiene. The VHWs also educate adolescent girls and boys on puberty physiology and sexual and reproductive health, address mental health for women and girls, and provide help as needed.

Cancer Prevention (Rajkot, Gujarat)

In this project, we have aimed to reach 100,000 people through cancer prevention awareness and routine check-ups. In the first phase of this project, we expect to screen 5,000 women for breast and cervical cancer, and provide more than 2,000 girls with vaccinations for HPV.

Anemia Prevention, Diagnosis, and Treatment (Saurashtra)

This project aims to diagnose and treat anemia in the targeted area in the most cost-effective way. The project remedies in detail the magnitude of child anemia, with the primary focus on iron deficiency and nutritional anemia. We supply children with nutrients involved in the synthesis of hemoglobin such as iron, folic acid, and vitamin B12.

Improving Maternal and Child Health in Tribal Areas of Gujarat Through the Use of ImTeCHO Technology and SNCU (Special Neonatal Care Unit)

This project implements an innovative intervention based on mobile phone technology (ImTeCHO) to help Accredited Social Health Activists (ASHAs) improve coverage of health services. ImTeCHO enables ASHAs to promote health education using multimedia, provide diagnoses and treatments, and coordinate care with specialists in medical facilities. This project will develop a scalable, evidence-based model to reduce maternal, newborn, and child deaths and undernutrition in areas with high mortality in Gujarat and throughout India.

The SNCU Follow-Up Program was envisioned with the mission to reduce out-of-hospital deaths of children and premature babies with low birth weight and ensure rigorous follow-up in terms of nutrition, immunization, and childhood illnesses. A total of 584 children have been booked under this program, and will receive follow-ups through age 2 through regularly scheduled house visits and a series of examinations on general conditions, vitals, and anthropometric measurements.

Save Life at Birth: A Mobile Unit for Healthcare in Rural India (Maharashtra)

This comprehensive program provides primary health care services to a population of 25 villages in Nanded, with a focus on health service family planning, mother and child health, premature babies with low birth weight, immunization, low-cost nutrition and food preparation, and oral rehydration. The main objective is to enhance the capability of mothers to look after the normal health and nutritional needs of children through proper nutrition and health education. ●

LEFT: Improving the health of mothers and children through preventative care is a core objective of our H2U program.
RIGHT: We're bringing healthcare to marginalized populations across Rajasthan, Gujarat, Maharashtra, Tamil Nadu, and Manipur.

EDUCATE 2 SUCCESS

Our E2S program provides support for students who are at risk of dropping out (or in some cases, have already dropped out) of school. The children selected for this program are from the poorest and most marginalized communities in India, and are assessed with the help of our incredible NGO partner, Light of Life Trust (LOLT).

For the 2020-21 school year, new LOLT student applicants were interviewed via telephone or video. Additionally, video calls were made (wherever possible) in place of conducting physical home visits to understand and assess the family situation. Some home visits were also conducted where it was not possible to conduct a call virtually.

WhatsApp (along with other technology tools such as Zoom and Google Meet) helps to connect a large number of students, mostly through phones of parents, relatives, neighbors, and friends. Conference calls with 5-9 students at a time have been set up with students where the network availability is the weakest. This process has helped reach out to the most marginalized students, who have responded to these calls positively, which keeps their learning going even if they cannot afford mobile phones and connectivity expenses for online classes. Those without any phone connectivity are contacted individually by village social workers.

During the E2S summer camp, social workers prepared daily videos and shared them with students through on-line groups. Teams connected through online platforms or via telephone calls. Follow-up calls were made to each student and videos and photos of finished items were shared by students on their WhatsApp group.

Our volunteers are also making efforts to thoroughly document these new processes, and to develop formats to capture responses and feedback from students across all regions.

Sarika Ramprasad Khurshinge: An E2S Success Story

Sarika joined the E2S program in 2009, and was selected in Std. VIII. Her family, who live in a tribal community, consist of six members: her father, mother, two elder brothers, and one younger sister. Her father is a farmer, but earns a meager income which is insufficient to even provide a square meal for the family.

Sarika proved to be an excellent and bright student who participated in all activities in the program, helping her to develop self-confidence, communication skills, a positive approach, and the ability to cope with difficult life situations. It also helped her to build a career-oriented thought process and facilitated the development of soft skills and life skills. Post-Std XII, she pursued a career in the Computer Engineering field. It was a tough decision for her and her parents, as it involved her moving to another location

Zoom and Google Meet are used in regions and centers where the availability of Android and internet connectivity is slightly better, compared to the rural areas. Though comparatively fewer sessions are conducted through these platforms, even those few sessions have sparked an interest and excitement among the students who could attend them. These sessions have successfully worked with students at the Mumbai Worli Center, who also participated in a call organized with our Kids4Kids group.

In the sessions, teachers upload daily content (self-written notes, audio, and/or video clips) along with homework assignments which are submitted through the same channel. Students read, listen, and view the content, ask questions on the WhatsApp group, or directly call the teachers. Students then submit their homework, which is checked by the teachers.

In some regions, the sessions were conducted effectively in their respective villages while practicing all safety norms like social distancing, wearing masks, and using sanitizer.

The topics covered during the in-person camps include: introductions, science experiments, teaching-learning methods, computer software and hardware basics, drawing competitions, paper craft making, and essay competitions.

to continue higher education. However, she successfully completed her B. Sc in Computer Science with 61% in 2016.

After that, she decided to focus on competitive examinations and started preparing for the IBPS examination.

Hard work, consistent study, and a passion for her dream job enabled her to pass the exam successfully. In 2020 she was selected as a Probationary Officer at the Bank of Maharashtra at Jintur in Parbhani District, where she earns an annual salary of Rs. 40,000. ●

Sarika's Journey, In Her Own Words

"With the support and guidance of the E2S program, I completed my SSC with good marks. After that I was faced with the dilemma of which path to choose, but was guided toward the correct path. Owing to the support, motivation, and guidance given throughout all the years, I successfully completed my HSC exams and also prepared for giving the competitive exams later on. Today I am a Probationary Officer at the Bank of Maharashtra and this would not have been possible for me as a girl child in my given circumstances without the support of the organization. I am very grateful to the organization for shaping my career."

—Sarika Ramprasad Khurshinge

A Message of Gratitude From Mr. Ramprasad Khurshinge

"Today I am feeling very proud to be known as the father of Sarika and it is really a happy moment for all of us. No one in our family was educated and there was no awareness about the importance of education either. But this program guided us on how to support our children. The E2S program not only gave us material support but also hope and guidance. To see Sarika working at the bank was only possible because of this program, and I thank you for making this a reality."

—Mr. Ramprasad Khurshinge

YOUNG PROFESSIONAL COMMITTEE

The Young Professional Committee (YPC) is a dynamic group of individuals from all over the country with a mission to volunteer and fundraise for the causes Share & Care Foundation supports while fostering a community for young professionals to connect over their combined passion for nonprofit work.

Last year the committee hosted two major events including a spring fundraiser in Manhattan's Meatpacking District featuring food, drinks, dancing, and a silent auction as well as a winter workout class. Together, these events raised over $25,000 to help deserving women and children through our education, healthcare, and equality programs.

The committee's 2021 kick-off fundraising effort will be a virtual poker tournament, with 100% of the proceeds going directly towards Village Upliftment and COVID-19 relief programs.

In addition to fundraising programming, the committee hosts seasonal networking events for its members, sponsors, and potential new volunteers. Current members include Aditi Vyas (chair), Megan Kothari, Payal Doshi, Sweta Sukhadia, Mohit Singla, Varun Malhotra, Radhika Vyas, John O'Mahoney, Ruchi Karsalia, Nissa Dalal, Pooja Pandya, Dhilati Oza, Devanshi Patrawala, and Vidhisha Mulani.

If you are interested in getting involved with the Young Professional Committee, please email us at YPC@shareandcare.org.

KIDS 4 KIDS

Kids4Kids (K4K) is a committee hosted for students by students, with a vision to help underprivileged children in India receive the education they deserve.

This year, the COVID-19 pandemic took hold just as we were settling in with new board members. Schools shut down and our daily lives were completely disrupted. Amid this new chaotic world and the stark realities of the virus, K4K remained determined to make a difference. Just before the pandemic started, each K4K member recruited three new members — not only increasing participation and interest in the group, but also increasing the total funds raised. (Each new member donated $130.) These funds provided an additional 23 students in India with tuition, notebooks, and pencils, and raised the total number of children educated to 255.

In recent months, the pandemic forced us to change direction. Since the pandemic was affecting everyone around the world, it became more important to help provide urgent COVID-19 relief even when we are indoors. In total, we have raised almost $2,900 for solely this cause.

T-Shirt Sale

In early April, we received our personalized Kids4Kids t-shirts which were ordered before the pandemic. The shirts are available for pickup for $15 and cost an additional $5 for shipping. All of our members chipped in, and we sold a total of 80 t-shirts in a month's time. Orders are flying in, so get one before they sell out! Contact us via email to buy yours.

Virtual Events

In April, K4K members held a virtual trivia game fundraiser on a website called Kahoot. The game consisted of 30 general knowledge questions to be answered quickly and correctly in order to receive the most points. It was a successful and fun event for all who participated.

In May, we hosted three virtual events. First, qualified yoga instructor Reetu Mehta (based in Belgium) volunteered to teach a virtual yoga class to keep K4K supporters engaged during quarantine. She taught for three different time zones: EST, IST, and CET. The event was a great success, raising $1,540 (through participation fees and donations) for disaster relief funds. Next, we held a "Fortnite" tournament, with all proceeds going toward COVID-19 relief projects. The event was successful, and we raised a total of $224. Lastly, we hosted a Bollywood dancing class, thanks to a dance instructor who volunteered to lead the activity. Thirty-five people joined the lesson, and we collected a total of $1640.

From November 2-8, we hosted a walking challenge with attendees of all ages and from all parts of the world. The fee to join the challenge was $10, and participants elected to compete in different challenges: the Junior Challenge, the 50,000 Challenge, the Starter Challenge, the Original Challenge, and the Summit Challenge. The winners for these challenges respectively were Mardavi Patel, Neha Kachwala, Pooja Javeri Shah, Sapna Mehta, and Samir Mehta. We raised a total of $3130 from 103 people, which exceeded our goal. This total included some amazing donations that we truly appreciate. ●

EDUCATE 2 GRADUATE

Our Educate to Graduate (E2G) program fosters secure futures for brilliant and ambitious students from low-income families. It provides them financial support and career guidance to obtain college degrees in engineering, IT, and medical fields that will help them find well-paying jobs. It has been a singular success since it began in 2007. (See Figure 1.)

In modern India, the job market is highly competitive and it is increasingly a knowledge economy — meaning that higher education is key to financial success. It also creates enlightened citizens who possess a broad perspective on life, the power of reasoning, an appetite to continually improve, and a keen awareness of ethics.

In short, higher education creates happy and fulfilled individuals, who in turn contribute to nation-building.

Out of 1614 Students Enrolled

13 YEARS OF PROGRESS

Students Enrolled To Date in E2G

Recent Developments: In 2019, we successfully transitioned the E2G program from a loan format to a scholarship format. Seventy-three students were enrolled in the 2019-2020 school year, and we plan for more in 2020.

Although there have been some delays in college opening due to COVID-19, the admission process has begun and several colleges will open initially on a digital platform. We are putting increased emphasis on supplementary skill development to improve job prospects upon graduation.

Measurable Impact: Of the 1614 E2G beneficiaries so far, more than 850 graduates are already employed in well-paying jobs. (See Figure 2.) The average earning of recent graduates is about $6,500 per year, though some earn much higher.

Support for Kalanjiyam

We are proud to support Kalanjiyam, a non-profit NGO based in Tamilnadu, which is helping the poorest communities to become self-sufficient through education, vocational training, and women empowerment. Through our E2G program we have provided scholarships to assist many of their brilliant students in achieving their goals. Since 2016 we have supported 50 such students, 24 of whom have already graduated.

One Scholar's Path to Her Dream Career

A. Shalini comes from a family with three children. Her mother is a stay-at-home parent and her father is a daily wage laborer. She is from Devanur, a village in the Kanchipuram district of Tamil Nadu. After high school (where she passed with a total of 824 marks) she aspired to go to college and enter the medical field. Through our E2G program, we provided a scholarship to support her studies.

The support has been helpful for Shalini while also reducing the financial burden on her parents, who explained that they had no choice but to take loans with high interest rates for their first daughter (Shalini's older sister), and their current livelihoods are barely enough to make ends meet.

Shalini is now a third-year student at Sri Balaji College of Nursing. She explains how the support from the E2G program has helped her in other ways; for instance, her confidence in English and communication has improved after attending leadership workshops, and she is motivated to help other students the way the E2G program benefited her.

Once a Marginalized Student, Now an Empowered Citizen

Bhautik Koladiya's father, a diamond worker in Surat, worked to provide his family with the very basic necessities; however, his yearly earnings of INR 85,000 (a little over $1,000) were not enough to meet any college expenses for Bhautik.

Higher education was a dream for Bhautik, who hoped to pursue engineering. When the admissions process started in 2017, he secured an admission at Dhirubhai Ambani Institute of Information and Communication Technology (DAIICT) — however, he faced a huge challenge of meeting college fees that were over 2.5 times his family earnings. Thankfully, a friend directed him to Share & Care's E2G program managed by Higher Education Support Trust in Bharuch, Gujarat. He contacted them, completed the qualifying process, and was selected for the scholarship program, which helped him meet the expenses for college.

Now, we are pleased to report that Bhautik has graduated with a degree in Mechanical Engineering — and through college placement, he secured a job to work as a Product Engineer with Sprinkler India Private Limited starting in 2021.

EDUCATE 2 GRADUATE

Your donation makes a brighter future possible for families who come from generational cycles of poverty. They can do it, and we can help!

where his compensation package will be over 35 times his family's income. Recently Bhautik told us that without the financial assistance from Share & Care, he would not have been able to realize his dream of going to college.

E2G's positive impact is astounding, as it is truly transformational for children raised in poverty. The benefits of the program are self-evident. By helping over 1,600 brilliant scholars to date, it has made higher education a reality for these scholars, ultimately putting them directly on a path to a secure future for themselves and their families. When we see our graduates earn 30-40 times more than that of their parents, we know that entire families (and communities) are being liberated from the cycle of poverty.●

A SPECIAL INTERVIEW

In Conversation with Padma Shri Ashaji Parekh

38th Annual Gala • October 10, 2020

By Manasi Parekh Gohil

Manasi: I am excited to announce that tonight we have somebody really special joining us. She is a legendary actress. She is the Padmashree, the one and only Miss Asha Parekh. Welcome Ashaji.

Asha Parekhji: Thank you. Good evening ladies and gentlemen.

Manasi: Thank you so much for joining us tonight Ashaji, and we welcome you to the Rising Together concert by the Share & Care Foundation. We are very excited to have you join us tonight because your connection with the Share & Care Foundation is really special and it's been a very long connection. So can you please share a little bit about the Share & Care Foundation?

Asha Parekhji: Yes, it's been a very long association. I think about 20 years back, Share & Care gave us a small unit for the people who are depressed and with mental anxiety. It was called Ashna, and it was opened in my hospital. So naturally from there, Share & Care started off, and was introduced by late Mr. Amrish Puri to Sharadhbhai and Ketkiben. Such wonderful people I have met in my life. And I am very thankful to late Amrish Puriji.

Manasi: Thank you so much for sharing that Ashaji. Share & Care had a beautiful start with you from the beginning, and right now it's doing incredible work for India, and you as well are associated with so much humanitarian work. Can you talk a little bit about what it is that you feel strongly for?

Asha Parekhji: There are so many people who are underprivileged, poor, and they need our help. Helping them is one of the best things one can do. And God also says we should help people who are poor and need help. So I think Share & Care has been doing really good work. I remember about three years back, I was invited by Sharadhbhai and Ketkiben to go with them to Nepal, where there had been a massive earthquake, and Share & Care put up a nice school at a small remote village. And it was so beautiful, the children were all there. Little kids will get an opportunity to get educated and live their lives. So I feel that one should always do something for the people who need us.

Manasi: That's a very noble thought indeed. And no wonder your association with Share & Care has been so beautiful and long-term because they believe in the same philosophy. And Ashaji, for the COVID relief project, Share & Care has been able to raise almost half a million dollars.

Asha Parekhji: How lovely! Congratulations.

Manasi: Yes, it's indeed been a very fruitful journey. Any thoughts you would like to share about the kind of work that Share & Care is doing for COVID especially, in the kind of times we live in?

Asha Parekhji: Yes, we need a lot of aid. The population of India is too much and COVID has been a big issue in India. Lots of people have died, especially poor people. Because all of them cannot afford to be in the hospital, the government is doing a lot, but there is still more to be done for COVID. And I think Share & Care has picked up this issue and I am very happy that they are doing such good work for India at this time.

Manasi: Absolutely Ashaji. And Ashaji, you yourself have had such a beautiful and successful long career, we would like to know as your fans and people who always admire your beauty, your talent, your absolute dedication and passion toward your work, what has this journey really meant — what are the moments that you look back upon and that make you smile?

Asha Parekhji: Life has been very good, and I was very lucky. But I did have a setback in the beginning. But then, I also admit that with one setback, God gives you something else, which is much better than what you would have had. And I worked hard, tried to do as much as I could, and God was very kind, and I got very good music, my film did well, and life has been very good. I feel that when I was in the industry, it was the right time to be there because if I had to be in the industry now, I don't think I would have survived.

Manasi: It's been absolutely beautiful talking to you, Ashaji. Thank you so much for sharing your precious time, your precious thoughts and memories with us. Share & Care always considers you part of the family. We love you.

Asha Parekhji: Thank you. I love you all.

Manasi: Thank you so much.

SHARE & CARE ANTHEM

Manavta Se Bada Dharam Nahi Koi, Sewa Se Bada Karam Nahi Koi

Lakshya jeevan kaa....Jodain tinka-tinka

Ek naya sansaar banayenge

Share Karen hum....Care Karen hum

Auron ke Liye, Prayer Karen hum

Har ghar main khushaali hogi...Holi aur Diwali hogi

Chote-bade ka bhed na hoga....Kisi ke mann main khed na hoga

Share Karen hum....Care Karen hum

Auron ke Liye, Prayer Karen hum

Aisi ek subah hogi.... Bhookh, Ashiksha mit jaayegi

Aankhon main aashaaon ke sapne...Sab ho jaayenge bas apne

Share Karen hum....Care Karen hum

Auron ke Liye, Prayer Karen hum

Sukh-dukh hum sabse battenge.... Mil-jul kar jeevan kaatenge

Hum samaaj se lete aaye....Ab samaaj ko dekar jaayein

Share Karen hum....Care Karen hum

Auron ke Liye, Prayer Karen hum
