

SHARE & CARE, TV ASIA & BE-UNITED present ONE WORLD FOR PANDEMIC

You're invited to join us for a telecast honoring the solidarity, perseverance, and achievements of the Share & Care community.

Today is World Humanitarian Day, a global celebration of people helping people. What better way to recognize this occasion than to announce our upcoming event honoring the people who make our mission possible?

During these trying times, we invite you, our donors and well wishers, to put your worries aside and join us for a musical evening on August 23 as we kick off the festivities leading up to our virtual Annual Gala and Fundraiser.

On this night, we applaud you for the difference that you have made. With your invaluable help, we have provided relief to many in India and the U.S. who have been severely impacted by the pandemic — including those who are fighting on the front lines. We understand and sympathize that many of our donors may have been affected by the current situation, so we are mindful when we humbly ask you to give anything you can as every drop makes a difference in another's life.

So sit back, relax and enjoy our musical evening in the comfort of your own home.
