

INCREASE EDUCATION OPPORTUNITIES THIS INTERNATIONAL LITERACY DAY

Today, September 8th, is International Literacy Day, which recognizes the crucial role literacy plays for individuals and society as a whole.

In 1966, the United Nations Educational, Scientific, and Cultural Organization declared September 8th to be International Literacy Day. It was established to remind the international community of the importance of literacy for individuals, their communities, and society as well as to highlight the need for additional focus on programs that promote literacy.

This belief in the vital role of access to educational opportunities is one that we also ascribe to at Share & Care. Our Signature Program, Educate 2 Success (E2S) provides students in India who've had to drop out of school with the support and tools they need to be able to re-enroll and complete their education. Our Kids4Kids Committee is composed of caring, dedicated teens in New York and New Jersey who work to support the Educate 2 Success initiatives and make a positive impact on the lives of children.

Kids4Kids Empowers Students in India

The Kids4Kids Committee strongly believes that education is the key to ending generational cycles of poverty in rural India. Their motto is “one child for one child,” meaning that every child who donates and joins the committee will immediately impact a child in India by covering the costs of their educational needs for an entire year.

Share & Care, through partnerships with NGOs like Light of Life Trust, empowers students in rural districts of four states (Maharashtra, Madhya Pradesh, Orissa, and Rajasthan) by ensuring they have the supplies and support necessary to complete their education.

Access to educational opportunities changes lives, and your support makes that possible. Please consider donating in honor of International Literacy Day. No amount is too small, and every gift is greatly appreciated.
