

GANDHI JAYANTI TUESDAY, OCTOBER 2

Help us free marginalized women from oppression and violence.

Today is Gandhi Jayanti, a national Indian holiday celebrating the birthdate of civil rights activist Mohandas Gandhi. On this day, we honor Gandiji's revolutionary teachings of nonviolence and independence.

At Share & Care, we are guided by the Gandhian principles of active service and self-sustainability. That's why our programs revolve around providing opportunities — to learn, to thrive, and to rise above the chains of poverty and oppression.

Recently, we announced our support for a program at Sabarmati Harijan Ashram, an institution established a century ago by Mahatma Gandhi and his wife Kasturba. This program provides young women — Harijan girls, or so-called "untouchables" — with education, shelter, and workshops focused on empowerment and critical thinking.

Like Gandhiji, we believe in the power of one person to enact great change. One teacher can plant the seeds of curiosity in a classroom full of children. One empowered student can become a mentor for other marginalized individuals.

And one donor — like you — can light the spark that puts it all in motion.
